

THE KENYA SCHOOL OF LAW

QUALITY POLICY

The Kenya School of Law (KSL) is committed to offering quality and practical training in law and other related disciplines for the professional development of lawyers and other actors in the legal sector.

KSL is committed to establishing, implementing, maintaining and continually improving a quality management system in accordance with ISO 9001:2015 Standard.

In order to realize this commitment, KSL undertakes to;

- a) Comply with applicable legal, statutory and other requirements in the delivery of its products and services;
- b) Ensure that internal and external issues relevant to the purpose and strategic direction of KSL are determined, monitored and reviewed;
- c) Periodically set and review quality objectives;
- d) Determine and address risks and opportunities that can affect conformity of products and services;
- e) Take accountability for the effectiveness of the QMS by ensuring that resources needed are available to promote the use of process approach and risk based thinking;
- f) Communicate the importance of an effective QMS and conformity to its requirements; and
- g) Ensure that the policy is communicated, understood and applied within the organization, and available to the relevant interested parties.

This policy is reviewed periodically by top management for continuing suitability and improvement.
